The Issue

Risk management may not be effective within your organisation if you don't create an awareness of risk and an understanding of risk management. Everyone involved also needs to understand how to implement the tools and techniques available to manage risk.

The Solution

idRisk can support you by creating a risk management culture so that individuals are ready to receive risk management and apply a proactive approach in their day-to-day roles.

idRisk adopts a flexible and innovative approach to designing risk management training solutions. Our trainers have a great deal of experience of ensuring that the content, format and method of delivery meet the needs of the target audience.

Bespoke Training

Different organisations require different approaches and idRisk will develop a solution to meet your specific needs and requirements.

This may be a broad introduction to risk management; technical training in a specific risk management field; coaching sessions for risk champions; risk workshops or briefings at Board level.

Whatever your needs please contact us to make an enquiry.

Certified Training

The Management of Risk and Uncertainty (MoRU)

This practical course is highly interactive using case studies and syndicate exercises. It is accredited and certified by the Institute of Risk Management.

Five modules are delivered over two days covering the emergence of risk management; risk assessment; risk treatment (risk control and risk financing) and corporate governance.

Customised MoRU Training

This is an excellent solution for organisations wishing to rollout an in-house risk management training programme. Savings in travel and accommodation means that it is an effective use of your training budget.

Additional benefits are:

- ⊙ the course can be customised to develop case studies and practical examples specific to your organisation,
- ⊙ your own risk management strategy can be communicated,
- ⊙ Sensitive information about your risk environment can be discussed without compromise.
